

ABOUT US

ACM was founded in 2019 with a mission to provide an exceptional online graduate education that is affordable and strives for the advancement of knowledge, musicianship, and inquiry, which encourages diversity in creative and critical thought. The College offers student-centered instruction that is empirical and hands-on. ACM's graduates are ready to live, adapt, and lead in an ever-changing, interconnected world.

TEACHING AND LEARNING

"... learning is ultimately a fundamentally human endeavor best accomplished by humans actually interacting with other humans."*

Teaching and Learning in the online environment are different from traditional face-to-face classrooms. That's why the ACM Online curriculum has been developed from the ground up with the E-Learner in mind. The online student wants flexibility and diversity in instruction with more interaction and collaboration than boring lectures. They want access to their professors to ask questions and share ideas with prompt feedback. Most of all, E-Learners wish to be in a setting where they can express their creative ideas to solve pedagogical issues leading to successful teaching outcomes.
